

Practical Web Designers in Berkshire

If your business is based in Berkshire and you're looking for a web designer who can produce a website that's practical, functional, and appealing, Business in Berkshire can help.

How often have you come across websites that are hard to navigate, or that look good in one type of web browser (or a certain screen resolution) but not in others? And how many small business websites are there which look great but can't actually be found on Google or any of the other major search engines? A Business in Berkshire website design addresses all of these issues and more.

A professional looking website design is crucial to help your business generate sales, build credibility, and gain visibility. We've all seen the results of poor design – pages that are slow to load, pictures that look hazy and 'pixelated', text that is far too wordy, information difficult or impossible to find: the list goes on. Achieving a practical website design is the result of combining artistic and technical considerations into a package that works.

KISS - Keep It Simple, Stupid!

Every Business in Berkshire website is built with this rule in mind. Our websites are ideal for the new start-up business looking for a cost-effective web presence. Because our prices start at just £180.00 plus VAT you can get your business online quickly and easily with minimal outlay. What's more, you have full control over your website content – no need to keep paying a web designer every time you want to make changes. Best of all, you can easily upgrade your site to include news and events pages which are published to thousands of readers each week and will help get your business noticed by Google and the other major search engines.
