MAXimising your marketing potential

Earlier this week I was approached by Jon Davey of Business in Berkshire. I have been using their services now for nearly three months and am just about to send out my third newsletter. Jon asked me if I would be kind enough to write a testimonial.

As a marketing expert for over twenty years I was really impressed that Jon like myself, believes in the power of testimonials and I was therefore happy to provide one for him.

I started to think about what I was going to say and I considered writing about the advise, customer service and support I had received and then I thought about the great design work that has gone into the newsletter.

I then thought NO. What really matters is what has this all meant to MAX Marketing! To find out what being part of Business in Berkshire has meant to me I suggest you go onto Google and type in 'Hiring an interim manager'

(which is what my company does).

You will see that we are No1 on Google out of 7,790,000 websites.

What more can I say!

Thanks Jon
