

Drilling contractors

Technical Concrete Cutting Ltd are your professional diamond drilling specialists. We provide experienced diamond drilling/sawing, hydraulic crunching/bursting and specialist demolition services at competitive prices.

Our company enjoys a reputation of quality workmanship and quality customer service. Based in Chichester, we work with a range of clients throughout the southern half of the UK, from small builders to major construction groups, all of whom value our investment in both plant and people.

Our services can benefit a variety of customers: building owners, utilities, small builders or major construction groups. As well as refurbishment work, we offer support on new build contracts and specialist projects. We are particularly renowned and trusted for our techniques in sensitive environments and have supported contractors on water treatment works, hospital remodelling, supermarkets and retail refurbishment.

Our operatives are encouraged to take individual responsibility for the success of our contracts, meaning that your job will always be led by passionate professionals who are driven by positive outcomes for our clients. It is this attitude, coupled with our niche experience, which leads to repeat business and enduring relationships with clients at all levels of the construction industry. Our specialist diamond drilling equipment is owned by the company. We ensure it is maintained to the highest standard to ensure operator safety, reliability and efficiency. As drilling contractors, we ensure that our staff are all trained within the Construction Skills Certification Scheme (CSCS). To discuss how diamond drilling can add value to your construction project, give us a call. Our friendly and professional team will be happy to advise you.
