

LiaiseOnline

First page listings of last week's BinB newsletter.

60% of all the stories we featured in last week's newsletter achieved a first page listing on Google within one week. And 80% of those were in the top spot. Don't you just love it when a plan comes off?

And the great thing is that we are consistently delivering high rankings as we have content on a given topic. It is amazing that more businesses haven't realised the potential of what we offer.

To be frank, I'm not sure even we truly utilise the power we have! It never ceases to delight us as we watch the content fly onto page one within days, often within a few minutes of launch.

We are working with a number of partners. Most have joined in after recognising what we have through the hard work they have put in themselves, to try and achieve regular page one listings on the search engines, in real time! They understand that making content fly high, consistently on page one of the search engines isn't that easy. You need the right toolkit and partnering up with LiaiseOnline is a very wise approach.
